INGENIOUS SCHEME WILL SAVE MUCH OF SHIPPING EXPENSE OF TIN CANS

Containers To Be Transported as 'Flats' and Assembled by Canneries

To take perfectly good tin cans, smash them flat as pancakes, and then straighten them out again, wouldn't you be doing a very sensible thing to do; but that is exactly what the American Can Company is proposing to the pineapple packers on the other islands. Moreover, the company has gone so far as to design several ingenious and intricate machines for doing the smashing and straightening operations, and this afternoon quite a little party of prominent pineapple men are over at the Can Company's big factory in Iwilei witnessing a demonstration of these stunts.

If the machines make the impression that Superintendent R. M. Morton believes they will, it is very likely that the packers will insist on having a considerable part of their cans put through this singular process. Moreover, the Can Company claims that the packers will make a big saving by adopting the new method, notwithstanding the fact that it will make their cans cost a little more, without in any way adding to the value of the tin containers in question.

All these seemingly anomalous statements, however, are reconciled when it is explained that the cans are crushed flat for the sole object of reducing their bulk, and thus saving in the cost of freight charges in transporting them from the Honolulu factory to the various canneries on the other islands. Ordinarily an empty tin occupies exactly as much space as though it were filled, and as freight rates are based upon space measurement and not actual weight, it is easy to believe that the expense of shipping empties is a burdensome item to the pineapple men. By "condensing" the cans, however, it is possible to reduce their bulk just seven-eighths, which means a corresponding reduction in transportation cost.

The tins, minus tops or bottoms, of course, will be flattened at the factory by the machine for this purpose, and after shipment to the cannery, where they are to be used, will be expanded by means of a very ingenious machine which removes every trace of the flattening. The cans then receive their bottoms on the regular "double seamers," which put the tops on when the cans are filled.

The process is an entirely new one and was worked out with especial reference to Hawaiian conditions. The idea suggested itself to J. M. Young, general manager of the Pacific coast division of the company, during a business trip from San Francisco a year or more ago. It is claimed that the expanding machine will open about 25,000 of the folded tins per day, the operation being entirely automatic. The machinery now being demonstrated was set up by Mr. Murch, a mechanical expert of the American Can Company, who arrived last week from San Francisco on the Honolulu.

WELLINGTON, N. Z.—The following shipments of New Zealand produce have been sent to London by the steamship Kumara which is expected to reach London on Oct. 20: 22,000 carcasses of mutton, 29,000 carcasses of lamb, 1000 quarters of beef, 1875 bales of wool, 307 tons of hemp, 16 cases of honey, 16 carcasses of pork and 3750 boxes of gum.

During July, 1913, the quantity and value of the principal products passed through the customs for export from New Zealand were as follows: 4056 cwt. of butter, value $24,554; 4677 cwt. of cheese, value $13,326; 33,859 cwt. of frozen beef, value $40,640; 256,236 carcasses of frozen mutton weighing 16,887 cwt., value $2170,323; 2649 legs and pieces of frozen mutton, value $4120; 478,686 carcasses of frozen lamb weighing 146,124 cwt., value $304,868; 19,601 bushels of wheat, value $3681; 10,603 bushels of oats, value $1443; 129 tons of potatoes, value $705; 2476 tons of New Zealand hemp, value $261,663; 11,549 rabbits, value $9167; 544 tons of tow, value $5292; 1065 tons of kauri gum, value $70,308; 38,940 bushels of grain and pulse, other than wheat and oats, value $9009; 377 cwt. of hops, value $2121; 22,002 hides, value $34,910; 2,006,005 skins of all kinds, value $131,330; 3464 tons of tallow, value $29,847; 4,896,446 superficial feet of timber, value $27,323; 8,159,682 lbs. of wool, value $346,631; and 40,103 ounces of gold, value $154,819.

The total value of the principal products exported from New Zealand from July 1 to 31 was $1,536,516 as against a total value in July last year of $240,060. For the three months ending June 30, 1913, the value of the principal products exported was $6,224,452 as compared with $5,666,110 for the corresponding period of 1912. The value of the principal products exported for the 12 months ending July 31, 1913, was $23,296,932, as against $18,818,122 for the 12 months ending July 31, 1912.

SMALLER CROPS

THIS YEAR OF HIGHER VALUE

Loss of More Than Billion Bushels of Five Leading Grains—Value More

It not infrequently happens that comparatively small crops sell for more money in the aggregate than very large ones. Last year's great corn crop, much exceeding any previous one, was worth a good deal less than crops of several preceding years when production was considerably smaller. The most valuable corn crop, prior to this year, from the money point of view, was that of 1909, when production was satisfactory but not abnormal. This year's sub-normal crop will be worth a good deal more than last year's and will probably somewhat exceed in value the 1909 crop. It will be the smallest in more than a decade, but in all likelihood the most valuable ever produced.

All of this year's important crops, except wheat, will fall below last year's production. Nevertheless, total value will be larger. This is well illustrated by the grain group, for which a comparison of production and total values, this year and last, is herewith given:

1913 (October estimate)—	Production	Value
Corn	2,373,000,000	$1,637,000,000
Wheat	753,000,000	647,000,000
Oats	1,122,000,000	460,000,000
Barley	168,000,000	118,000,000
Rye	35,000,000	24,000,000
Total	4,451,000,000	$2,886,000,000

1912 (final for the year)—	Production	Value
Corn	3,125,000,000	$1,520,000,000
Wheat	730,000,000	555,000,000
Oats	1,418,000,000	452,000,000
Barley	224,000,000	113,000,000
Rye	36,000,000	23,000,000
Total	5,523,000,000	$2,663,000,000

Values in the table for the present year are based on current prices in Chicago for corn, wheat, oats and rye and in Duluth for barley. The 1912 values are those calculated by the department of agriculture and are based on the December 1 average farm price, not yet available for this year. The table points to a loss of 1,072,000,000 bushels in this year's crops of the five leading grains and to a gain of $223,000,000 in total value.

WHEAT YIELD

OF NEBRASKA

NEW RECORD

Exceeds Last Year by Over 14,000,000 Bushels According to Labor Report

[By Latest Mail]

OMAHA, Neb.—Nebraska's wheat yield this year exceeded that of 1912, the previous record of over 14,000,000 bushels, according to the annual bulletin of the labor commission given out by Commissioner Pool, says the News. The total in 1913 was 64,725,348 bushels. Of this winter wheat had 59,846,834 and spring wheat 4,878,514 bushels. In 1912 the total yield was 50,663,097.

The average yield of winter wheat this year was 18.51 bushels per acre, and the spring wheat average 12.93. Figuring the crop at 75 cents per bushel, the money value is $48,589,011. This is nearly $4,000,000 more than the people of the state have invested in automobiles, the report says.

The state has 69,752 wheat land owners and 49,353 tenants worked farms containing 31,562,998 acres.

FRONTAGE TAX

FOR KAPAHULU

Gazette avenue, on which the large Bortfield poultry ranch is situated, was named for improvement under the frontage tax law by the Kapahulu Improvement Club at its monthly meeting yesterday. President C. J. Hummel appointed J. A. Bortfield, Sylvester Kahikikolo and Charles K. Kamao a committee to conduct the necessary preliminaries for having the work done.

Esther avenue, previously taken up in the same manner, is in abeyance owing to the absence of a member of the special committee thereon who is also a property-owner on that road. R. S. Kelly reported progress on investigation of the alleged closing of Kaimuki avenue.

Other business at the meeting was routine, but there was an animated discussion on good of the club. Sylvester Kahikikolo thought there should be more boosting of Kapahulu for its climatic and scenic attractions, saying that was the only improvement

Ayer's Hair Vigor

What does it do? It makes the hair soft and glossy, precisely as nature intended. It cleanses the scalp from dandruff, and thus removes one of the great causes of baldness. It makes a better circulation in the scalp, and thus greatly promotes growth. And it stops the hair from coming out. But it never affects the color. Consult your doctor; follow his advice.

Falling hair is sometimes caused by impure blood or weak nerves. Then constitutional treatment with Ayer's Sarsaparilla is necessary. This local and constitutional treatment will surely bring prompt results.
